QUADRUPEL

LA TRAPPE QUADRUPEL

10% ABV, Bottle Conditioned

TASTING NOTES

You will find all La Trappe beers to be expertly made, clean and bright in character. Quadrupel is deep russet in color with deep sweet and spicy notes in the aroma. Very full bodied, sweetish and malty but finishes with a drinkable balance and leaves a warming, soothing trail of happiness down your throat.

BREWERY HISTORY

The Abbey of Koningshoeven was founded in 1880 by French monks seeking a safe place to live, work and pray. The land was formerly a royal farm, which inspired the name of the Abbey. Like all Trappist monks, the community at Koningshoeven is required to earn their living by the work of their hands, and in 1884 their brewery opened and became the main source of income for the monastery.

Today the monks use a workforce of laypeople to keep up with demand, but remain firmly in control of the beer, recipes and label design. As a product of one of the eight authentic Trappist Breweries, La Trappe beers have earned the right to use the "Authentic Trappist Product" seal.

TRIPLE

LA TRAPPE TRIPLE

8% ABV, Bottle Conditioned

TASTING NOTES

You will find all La Trappe beers to be expertly made, clean and bright in character. Dusky golden in color and soft on the palate. Rich caramel malt flavors and a subtle sweetness make for a Triple on the malty side. Not the beer for hop lovers but would pair wonderfully with seared scallops or other fish dishes and anything on the spicy side.

TASTING NOTES

You will find all La Trappe beers to be expertly made, clean and bright in character. Ruby red and full-bodied with beautiful notes of dried fruit, tobacco and a surprisingly spritely, dry finish. Simply the best beer with food in the known universe and pairs brilliantly with braised meats or vegetables, squash, roasted chicken or nuts and cheese.

TASTING NOTES

You will find all La Trappe beers to be expertly made, clean and bright in character. An unspiced, straightforward and delicious wheat beer. Moderate alcohol and a crisp, clean finish make La Trappe Witte an excellent summertime choice. Think of this unique beer as half way between a German Hefeweizen and a Belgian White Beer.

BOCKBIER

LA TRAPPE BOCKBIER

7% ABV, Bottle Conditioned

TASTING NOTES

The Dutch are crazy for Bock. You will find Bockfests and tastings and celebrations all over the country when the season is right. And this Bockbier is one of the most cherished in all of the Netherlands. It's appearance is beautifully deep brown-red with an off-white collar of thick foam. The nose is of toffee, malt and the barest hint of noble hops. On the palate La Trappe Bockbier is firmly malty with a subtle roasted character and a nicely dry finish. It's a sophisticated beer that would pair exceedingly well with grilled beef or lamb. Try it with spicy Indian food for a revelatory dining experience.

OAK AGED QUADRUPEL

OAK AGED LA TRAPPE QUADRUPEL

10% ABV, Bottle Conditioned

TASTING NOTES

Deep russet in color with deep sweet and spicy notes in the aroma. Very full bodied, sweetish and malty but finishes with a drinkable balance and leaves a warming, soothing trail of happiness down your throat.

Oak Aged Quadrupel is a completely unique Trappist Ale, aged in a variety of different oak barrels, some new and some that have been used for other spirits or wine. Should you visit the aging cellar, you would see port, sherry, whisky, or red wine barrels all filled with Quadrupel and aged to perfection. These beers are blended in specific proportions to make each batch of Oak Aged Quadrupel. No two batches are the same.

We are proud to be the first European brewery with such an ambitious barrel-aging program and hope that you will agree that the results are spectacular!

BRAND HIGHLIGHTS

- Each blend is unique and never repeated
- Barrels are sourced from across the world: wine and spirits as well as new
- Our brewmaster tastes and evaluates each barrel, packaging the beer at the height of it's quality

PUUR

LA TRAPPE PUUR

4.7% ABV, Bottle Conditioned

TASTING NOTES

PUUR is light golden in color with a fine, dense white foam collar. The nose is fresh bread and fine hops, with a beautiful hint of fresh malt. On the palate it is very fine, delicate but flavorful and clean. Compare to a rich, round Kölsch.

BRAND HIGHLIGHTS

The monks at Koningshoeven grow their own hops, in a small field next to the brewery, near the tap room. They grow German Hallertauer, one of the most exquisite aroma hops of Europe.

When PUUR was first launched, only the hops grown there, at the monastery, were used. That first beer was fragrant, light, kölsch-like. Undeniably Trappist, but also accessible and very high quality.

Today, production of PUUR bigger than can be brewed strictly with monastery-grown hops, but the monks grow them still. When you experience the fine aroma and delicate flavors of PUUR, it's easy to imagine that maybe, just maybe, some of those special hops are in the glass.
